

Application for the workshop

“The Influence of Foreign and International Legal Sources on Post-Conflict and in-Conflict Constitutional Law”

30 March 2018

1. We inform all those which could be interested that it is just open the application for the “WORKSHOP #20 The Influence of Foreign and International Legal Sources on Post-Conflict and in-Conflict Constitutional Law” approved by the International Association of Constitutional Law (IACL) World Congress (18-22 June 2018, Seoul, Republic of Korea, <http://wcccl2018-seoul.org/>). The Workshop is coordinated by the professors Tania Groppi (University of Siena-Italy) and Gianluca Gentili (University of Sussex-UK) and the program is available on the official IACL World Congress website, listed on the workshops program (see here: <http://wcccl2018-seoul.org/programme.html>).
2. We invite you to complete as soon as possible your application to participate in our workshop, following the IACL procedure explained on <http://wcccl2018-seoul.org/paper-submission.html> and to send it also to both prof. Groppi and Gentili: tania.groppi@unisi.it; g.gentili@sussex.ac.uk.
3. It is necessary paying the requested Congress fee registration <http://wcccl2018-seoul.org/registration.html>.

We are looking forward to receiving your application.

Tania and Gianluca