
IACL ROUND TABLE

The Principle of Equality. New and Old Challenges

University of Siena, Certosa di Pontignano
June 15-16, 2023

Jointly organized by:

DIPEC

Gruppo di ricerca e formazione sul
diritto pubblico comparato ed europeo

IACL

International Association of Constitutional Law

with the collaboration of:

Background

Equality, as a concept, is as old as mankind and, as a principle, it has been part of many constitutional documents since the American and the French Revolutions. After the Second World War it became a core element of the “Postwar paradigm”, as part of international documents and national constitutions. Afterwards, it has been entrenched in many constitutions willing to fight against social inequalities, in the context of the “transformative constitutionalism” movement, especially in the Global South.

The different understandings of equality always raised challenges for constitutional law: How to reconcile the tension between formal and substantive equality? Which nondiscrimination clauses should be considered? Could written constitutions be interpreted progressively, in order to broaden the nondiscrimination principle? How can substantive equality be protected, if the legislator is inactive? Could courts make up for legislators, to fill in their omissions? Is gender equality more likely to be achieved through the formal or substantive equality principle?

New challenges have developed in the 21st century, in the context of democratic decay. In many democracies, old and new, political forces hostile to liberal democracy appear to attack the rule of law and constitutional guarantees, after winning electoral majorities in the polls.

The Roundtable will be co-organized by the DIPEC Research Group at the University of Siena, within the research projects PRIN 2017 “Framing and diagnosing constitutional degradation: a comparative perspective”, Principal Investigator: Prof. Tania Groppi and PRIN 2017 “The constitutional implications of European separatist claims”, Principal Investigator: Prof. Alessandro Torre – Siena Unit “Separatist claims, minority rights and citizenship transformation”, Responsible: Prof. Valeria Piergigli and the Jean Monnet Module EUGENIA (responsible prof. Tania Groppi).

Overview

The Roundtable is structured around a keynote speech, three main sessions, a young scholars' session and a final speech:

- Keynote speech: The Expressive Complexities of Constitutional Equality
- First Session: The Principle of Equality and Social Justice
- Second Session: Gender Equality
- Third Session: Pluralism and Minorities
- Special Session for Junior Scholars: The Principle of Equality and Rule of Law
- Final Speech: Non-discrimination Principle as a Major Source of Equality

15

June

9:30/10:30, Opening Session

Keynote Speech: The Expressive Complexities of Constitutional Equality

11:00/13:00, First Session

The Principle of Equality and Social Justice

14:00/16:00, Second Session

Gender Equality

16:30/19:00

Special Session for Junior Scholars

The Principle of Equality and Rule of Law

16

June

9:30/11:30, Third Session

Pluralism and Minorities

12:00/13:00, Final Speech

Thursday

15

June

Opening Session

9:30/10:30

Chair: Tania Groppi, University of Siena

Opening Speeches

Helle Krunke, President of IACL

Roberto Di Pietra, Rector of University of Siena

Rolando Tarchi, President of DPCE

Barbara Pozzo, President of SIRD

Keynote Speech

TOM GINSBURG

“The Expressive Complexities of Constitutional Equality”

FIRST SESSION

11:00/13:00

The principle of Equality and Social Justice

Chairs: Helle Krunke, University of Copenhagen & Marek Zubik, University of Warsaw

David Bilchitz, University of Johannesburg

"Equality of What? The Need for Minimum Thresholds in Giving Effect to Socio-Economic Rights"

Irene Spigno, Academia Interamericana de derechos humanos, Saltillo, Coahuila, México

"Social Rights in Mexican Constitutionalism"

Akiko Ejima, Meiji University, Tokyo

"The Principle of Equality in Transforming Society: Achievements and Challenges"

Siri Gloppen, University of Bergen

"Can Social Movements Advance Substantive Equality through Social Rights Lawfare?"

Gender Equality

Chairs: Susanna Mancini, University of Bologna & Tom Daly, University of Melbourne

Angelo Schillaci, University Sapienza of Rome

"A Matter of Equal Dignity. New Paths in the Recognition and Protection of Gender Identity in European Constitutional Experiences"

Selin Esen, University of Ankara

"Protecting the Women's Rights Through a Constitutional Court: the Case of Turkey"

Iris Nguyen Duy, University of Agder, Norway

"Gender Equality in France: Constitutional Framework and Challenges"

Neila Chaabane, University of Carthage & Salwa Hamrouni, University of Carthage

"Gender Equality in the Tunisian Constitutions"

SECOND SESSION

14:00/16:00

16.30/19.00

Special Session for Junior Scholars: The Principle of Equality and Rule of Law

Chairs: Jens Elo Rytter, University of Copenhagen & When-Chen Chang, National University Taiwan

Ayushi Agarwal, University of Oxford

Interpreting ‘Equality’: What can it Contribute for The Rule of Law in Sports?

Arca Alpan, Marmara University

Degrowth or Sustainable Development: Can We Hold Governments Responsible for Shrinking Their Economies to Make Room for Justice and Equality?

Maria Francesca De Tullio, University of Napoli “Federico II”

Which Data Governance for a Social Post-Pandemic Recovery?

Micol Ferrario, University of Neuchâtel

The Principle of Equality Amidst the Protection of Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity: The Case of Switzerland

Toni Fickentscher, University of Regensburg

Social Security Generational Justice as a Constitutional Justifiable Mandate?

Tainá Garcia Maia, University of Münster

The Right to Equality of LGBTI Persons in the Inter-American Court of Human Rights: A Prototypical Case of the Negligible Role of Consensus?

Miki Kadota, Kyoto University

Reviving “The Social Obligation of Property” Against the Exclusion from Public Spaces

Sato Naito, Waseda University Tokyo

Equality principle in Japanese Case Law

Suresh Sandeep, Jindal Global Law School

Equality = Non-Arbitrariness? Locating This Equation in the Indian Equality Jurisprudence Using the Rule of Law Framework

Davide Zecca, University of Milano

Equality of Arms in Politics: the Role of Courts in Adjudicating the Openness of Political Processes

Zheng Zhu, China University of Political Science and Law

The Unconstitutionality of Mandatory Disclosure of IP-Addresses and Its Impact on Regional Discrimination on Chinese Social Media

Rueven Ziegler, University of Reading

Are all LGBT+ Asylum-Seekers Created Equal?

16

June

Friday

Pluralism and Minorities

Chairs: Valeria Piergigli, University of Siena & Anna Cornell Jonsson, University of Uppsala

Oumarou Narey, Université Abdou Moumouni de Niamey-Niger

"Les droits des minorités en Afrique: jeux et enjeux"

Josè Maria Serna, Instituto de Investigaciones Jurídicas, UNAM, Mexico

"Pluralism and the Rights of Indigenous Peoples in Mexico: the Difficult Coexistence of State and Non-state Judicial Systems"

Sionaidh Douglas-Scott, Queen Mary's University, London, UK

"Pluralism in the UK: Inequities, Devolution and Independence in Scotland"

Jens Woelk, University of Trento

"Political Participation and Representation of Minorities in the Western Balkans"

THIRD SESSION

09:30/11:30

Closing Remarks
12:00/13:00

GIULIANO AMATO

"Non-discrimination Principle as a Major Source of Equality"

Chair: Pablo Riberi, National University of Cordoba, Argentina

IACL ROUNDTABLE

Siena, Italy

The Principle of Equality. New and Old Challenges

June 15-16, 2023
Certosa di Pontignano (Siena, Italy)

To attend the Roundtable (only in presence), please register here

Live streaming on DIPEC Youtube Channel